DESCRIPTION:

Do you know the first contact of Japanese/American history? Feel it on this tour. This exciting festival is held annually to commemorate the 1853 arrival of America's Commodore Perry off Shimoda, a small fishing town located at the south end of the Izu Peninsula. Perry and his fleet of black ships - Kurofune - opened Japan to the outside world. This festival has an international flavor and features a United States Navy parade among its many events (<http://bit.ly/BSFES>).
