Don’t Panic: Sailor’s Guide to an Efficient PCS

By Garrett Nicholas Cole, CFAY Public Affairs

Dealing with a Permanent Change of Station (PCS) is one of those moments where excitement, stress, and sadness can occur simultaneously. There’s joy in the idea of embarking on a new adventure, the hesitancy of concluding another chapter in life, and the strain of an imminent move ahead. But, in the words of Douglas Adams’ Hitchhiker’s Guide to the Galaxy, “Don’t Panic!” During these trying times, Sailors should depend on the support of family, friends, and coworkers to help them navigate these rough waters.

They can also find solace in contacting their command admin office. According to Yeoman 2nd Class Dionrussel Malabute, the lead petty officer of Commander, Fleet Activities Yokosuka (CFAY)’s administration department, consistent communication with the admin office helps make the transition a more straightforward process.

“Here at CFAY we like to start our transfers fairly early,” said Malabute. “I would say they need to come in and see us as soon as they receive their orders so that we can give them their checklist and get them started on the PCS process.”

The PCS checklist is a tool that helps members account for every aspect of their move. But even the most efficient procedures can come with setbacks.

“There are some common factors we see that can lead to potential delays,” said Malabute. “The major factors are health screenings, leave plans, coordination with the travel office, and pets. So it’s a good idea to reach out to those offices to make sure you’re squared away.”

The admin team at CFAY provides valuable resources available to Sailors who are preparing for their next venture. The four member staff, along with their unit representatives, provide support and information on everything for PCSing. Another resource that provides pertinent materials for Sailors and their families is MyNavyHR.

“The documents on this website are not only important to Sailors who may need the information, but also their spouses or even agents at the MyNavy Career Center call center when assisting them with any issues they may have,” said Don Koehler, MyNavyHR/Navy Personnel Command (NPC) web manager.

MyNavyHR offers information on fleet and Sailor readiness, quality of life, career decisions, physical and mental wellness, and family resources. It serves as a one-stop hub for information that can make PCSing a smoother process.

Juggling so many different PCS requirements can be stressful, but early preparation, constant contact with the admin office, and utilizing MyNavyHR are great ways to prevent delays.

For more than 75 years, CFAY has provided, maintained, and operated base facilities and services in support of the U.S. 7th Fleet’s forward deployed naval forces, tenant commands, and thousands of military and civilian personnel and their families.

101 Critical Days of Summer: Manage Your Own Risk (Part I)

INTRODUCTION

MANAGING YOUR RISK

Summer is nearly here, so it’s time for our 101 Critical Days of Summer safety campaign, beginning this month. This is the hottest, sunniest period of the year for military members, beginning with Memorial Day weekend and ending with Labor Day weekend. The summer months are filled with warm weather, celebrations and long days. During this time, the potential for injury and illness can increase. A general lack of educational awareness and competency are a few of the root causes of numerous off-duty mishaps from last summer.

During these longer days, potential losses in judgment while engaging in summer activities can reactivate the readiness of Sutton and his team. Managing an active risk management mindset to ensure an enjoyable and safe summer.

GET REAL AND GET BETTER

The Navy’s Get Real and Get Better (GRAB) cell is in active approach to empowering our service members and families to take charge of their safety and readiness, and help make our communities better places to live.

Every member of our teams must adopt a learning mindset and curios to varying educational and training material. We will each other accountable for decision making process and will be the best on- and off-duty.

ADULT SWIMMING SAFETY

MANTAIN SELF-AWARENESS OF SWIMMING SKILLS

• Don’t swim alone. Always swim with a partner.
• Never swim under the influence of alcohol, drugs or medication.
• Know and observe the swimming limitations and capabilities.
• Avoid swift rushing water. If caught in a current, turn with it and angle toward shore or the edge of the current. People are powerful currents of water moving away from shore that can sweep even the strongest swimmer out to sea.
• Stay out of the water during thunderstorms and severe weather.
• Don’t go out too long, too cold, too far from safety, expected to too much or an experience too much strenuous activity.

• Even if you’re a good swimmer, wear a life jacket. The American Cancer Society estimates that at least 10% of 150 drownings involve a person involved in a dive. The U.S. Coast Guard estimates that in every year, 10% of those who drown are fatalities. You can get a free, waterproof container for your pocket or at the local boating supply store.
• Label gear with contact info. Labeling gear with your name and two interest numbers could help the U.S. Coast Guard identify your equipment in case of an emergency.
• The U.S. Coast Guard offers a nation-wide program called Faddic. Faddic requires a change in your boat’s identification. You can get a free, adjustable container for your pocket or at the local boating supply store.
• There is a may call list of boaters. Ensure call phone is charged and in a weatherproof case or a talk-out mode with you at all times.

POOL CHEMICAL SAFETY

SAFE USE

• Ask for help if you are not trained for specific tasks.
• Read chemical and electronic product labels or Material Safety Data Sheets before each use.
• Keep pool chemicals in a horizontal position and cover them when not in use.
• Keep children and pets away from pool chemicals.

SAFE STORAGE AND DISPOSAL

• Follow product label directions for chemical storage.
• Wear proper protective equipment (i.e., safety goggles, mask and gloves).
• Keep chemicals out of reach of children and pets.
• Never store chemicals near food.
• Keep chemicals stored in their original, sealed containers.
• Store fluid chemicals in proper containers (e.g., by testing with chemicals or containers of similar type).

BOATING SAFETY

USE COMMON SENSE

• Follow the pre-departure checklist. Using a pre-departure checklist is a helpful way to check the boat and ensure that the proper gear is onboard.
• Be weather-wise. Always check local, route and destination weather and water conditions before departure and ensure it is safe to get out.
• Use common sense. Operate at a safe speed at all times, especially in confined areas, stay alert and clear of large vessels and watercraft that can be endangered in their ability to slow or stop.
• Know the nautical routes of the road. Maintain a proper distance and maintain your course and distance. Do not make unnecessary turns.
• Designate an assistant skipper. Make sure there’s one person aboard in familiar with all aspects of the boat’s operation, steering, and general boating safety. In case of emergency operators is incapacitated and someone else needs to get the boat back to shore.

CONTINUED

• Follow a safe plan. Let someone else know where you’re going and when you expect to be back. A plan can include the following information: boat type, route, expected arrival and departure times. Provide a list of passengers onboard and keep a record of the boat’s itinerary.
• Keep proper location of safety equipment. These items are required on all boats.
• Know what to do in a weather emergency. Have a plan in place for how to handle a weather emergency.
• Know where the engines and controls are located. Properly use and control the boat’s engines and controls.
• Keep the boat current. Keep the boat current and make sure the boat is in good condition.

BOATING SAFETY

OBSERVE WARNING SIGNS

Marine warning flags systems will have flags to provide boaters a visual indicator to current weather conditions. Below is a few to know:

• One red flag denotes a severe craft advisory and two red flags indicate a gale warning.

MAN OVERBOARD

Throw – “Man overboard!”

Save – Locate the person in the water and keep eye on them at all times, without moving the boat’s movement, it’s easy to lose track of your victim.

Throw – Toss a flotation device into the water for the victim to latch onto.

Best Turn Around! – Turn back toward the victim to pick them up.

Put Up Chute – Return to the victim with a safe, throw of and to them.

Get in the water and pick the victim up for the life ring. If they’re still unresponsive, do the hand-to-hand cardiac arrest and get in the water and pick the victim up.

Note: Two types of lures are used to quickly return to the point of origin. The first is an oval and the second is a red lure. If the victim is lost or in reduced visibility, use a 200 foot line to keep the victim at the end of the line. As the victim moves, the line will be pulled back to you. If the victim is lost or in reduced visibility, use a 200 foot line to keep the victim at the end of the line. As the victim moves, the line will be pulled back to you.

A smaller percentage of active duty Navy and Marine Corps respondents indicated a lack of strength training exercises, 22 percent and 16 percent, respectively. The positive picture is active duty Sailors and Marines exceed the general population in their activity levels as less than half of the overall U.S. adult population get the recommended physical activity needed each week. COVID Testing and Billing Concerns

Due to reasons beyond our control, there have been delays with the billing system. We understand the concerns you may have about the timeliness of this process. Additionally, the price of services are not determined locally. The following contains some FAQs regarding this issue. Thank you for your understanding in this matter.

For any additional questions not addressed, please contact the Centralized Receivables Service at 1-855-549-2684 or UBO Customer Service at DSN: 243-7090.
COVID Testing and Billing FAQs

Q: If you have a work required close contact test, do you have to pay it?
A: Yes, for GS employees that have or will receive a bill for COVID testing, you should submit a request with your supervisor to fill out the Occupational Health (OCCH) Verification Template and have the supervisor submit it to usn.uboyk@mail.mil on a case-by-case basis. Employers can submit one OCCH Verification Template along with an excel list of all employees that are OCCH required. For GS dependents, invoices should be submitted to your insurance company. If denied, a waiver request can be made directly to the Secretary of the Navy (SECNAV). Requesting a waiver does not allow us to halt collection actions on this bill; however, if you receive a waiver, contact us so that we can take appropriate actions to refund any excess collections to you.

Q: If you are a close contact or symptomatic and receive a late bill, do you pay it?
A: Yes, and request your insurance company to reimburse you. Most insurance companies will pay claims for services rendered within a year. If the claim is denied, that form can be taken to Uniform Billing Office at U.S. Naval Hospital for guidance on how to request an individual waiver routed to the SECNAV.

Q: If you travel for work and are billed for travel related tests, do you pay the bill?
A: Yes, tests are a reimbursable expense under the Joint Travel Regulations (JTR) for temporary additional duty (TAD) but not for renewal agreement travel (RAT). Member would need to amend the voucher when they receive the bill and it is paid.

Q: If you PCS as a government paid employee and are required to have travel related testing, do you pay the bill?
A: Yes, as PCS entitlements cover costs related to testing. This is considered an expense under PCS. However, civilians already receive a flat rate miscellaneous expense allowance (MEA) that covers this, along with other expenses (this amount is received without receipts and the amount varies based on with/without dependents and their pay). There is also a way for a civilian to claim for some expenses above the flat rate but it is up to the area of operations (AO). One of these expenses is COVID tests, listed as immunizations and testing (reference page 78-79 and 378-380 of the JTR).
